THE FILLEY TICKET.

The Filley ticket nominated Thaddeus Filley to heaven. It furnishes the best possible evidence that Filley imagines that the Republicans have a yellow dog majority in St. Louis and hence that it is not necessary for him to make any concessions to decency. It was nominated at Filley's headquarters and the convention was presided over by Ziegelnheim, Filley's candidate for Mayor.

The renomination of Troll for Sheriff is Filley's reward for gross incompetence and notorious neglect of duty. The nomination of Zachritis for Circuit Judge is an insult to the decent people of St. Louis whom he has defied and affronted as Circuit Attorney, and there is scarcely a taint that he will be defeated at the polls.

The nomination of Talty and other shows that Mr. Filley regards judicial positions as fitting rewards his subservient henchmen. Mr. Talty and Mr. Finkelnbeck, the other for Circuit Judge, have refused to such company, knowing perfectly well that they were put out to give an air of respectability to a hoodlum ticket.

Congress Wait has been notoriously incompetent and neglectful, and yet he is rewarded with a renomination. Eggers, the nominee for Circuit Attorney, is Clerk of the Police Court and never tried a case in his life.

The Filley ticket is in ugly contrast to the excellent city ticket placed in the field by the Democrats last month. It will be rejected by the independent voters of St. Louis. And these independent voters hold the balance of power. Filley has insured the election of the Democratic city ticket.

CAPITAL REMOVAL.

A letter from our Jefferson City correspondent published elsewhere reminds the people of Missouri that one of the questions to be determined at the coming election is whether or not the State capital shall remain at Jefferson City or be removed to Sedalia.

In the stress of Presidential politics this question has almost been lost sight of, and yet it is a matter of a good deal of interest to the people of Missouri as well as to the citizens of Jefferson City and Sedalia. Representatives of the rival cities are understood to be making a vigorous campaign, through the distribution of literature and the like, and the personal influence of political leaders throughout the State is being enlisted on both sides.

It is not the purpose of the Post-Dispatch to participate in the discussion or to champion the cause of either city. But it is proper to remind the people that the burden of proof rests with Sedalia; that is to say, Sedalia must prove not merely that she wants the State capital, but that she wants to interest the people of St. Louis to remove it from its historic location and transfer it to another city. The removal of a State capital is a serious thing. It involves large expenditures and, for a time at least, considerable inconvenience to the State officials. It should be made only when the advantages to be gained are great and obvious. This is what Sedalia must prove.

THE 16 TO 1 DOLLAR.

From 1700 to 1850 the ratio between the production of silver and that of gold has averaged about the existing coinage ratio—sixteen ounces of silver to one of gold.

It was believed by some that gold would be more plentiful as silver and Holland far as to demonetize it.

Her country did so, however, and the mint remained open the unlimited supply of money resulted in the immediate reduction of all the gold that could as much more would have been in the same way because the world was then in ruins.

WOMAN'S BOARD OF MISSIONS.

Convention in Session in the Illinois State-House.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 18.—The twenty-first annual National Convention of the Christian Women's Board of Missions convened in the House of Representatives this morning after a short session, delegates from all parts of the United States and Canada present. It will be in session for over week, and will hold three sessions each day.

The officers of the society are: President, Mrs. O. A. Burgess, Indianapolis; Secretary, Mrs. Lois A. White, Indianapolis; Treasurer, Miss Judson, Indianapolis.

In conjunction with the society several hundred bodies of the Christian Church are meeting here.

A PECCULAR REMEDY.

Something About the New Discovery for Curing Dyspepsia.

The Rev. F. L. Bell, a highly esteemed minister residing in Weedsport, Cayuga Co., N.Y., in a recent letter writes as follows:

"There has never been anything that I have taken that has relieved the Dyspepsia from which I have suffered for ten years except the new remedy called Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Since taking them I have had no distress at all after eating and again after long years CAN SLEEP WELL. Rev. F. L. Bell, Weedsport, N.Y., formerly Hallie, Cambria."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is a remarkable remedy, not only because it is a certain cure for all forms of indigestion, but because it seems to act as thoroughly in old chronic cases of dyspepsia as well as in mild attacks of indigestion or biliousness. A person who has dyspepsia simply because the stomach is overworked, all it wants is a harmless, vegetable remedy to digest the food and thus give it the much needed rest.

This is the secret of the success of this peculiar remedy. No matter how weak or how much disordered the digestion may be, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest the food whether the stomach works or not. New life and energy is given not only to the stomach but to the brain and nerve in the body. The trial of this splendid medicine will convince the most sceptical that Dyspepsia and all stomach troubles can be cured. The tablets are prepared by the Stuart Chemical Co. of Marshall, Mich., but so popular has the remedy become that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can now be obtained at any drug store at 50 cents per package. Send for book on stomach diseases free.

TYNAN'S IRISH REPUBLIC IDEA.

THE RELEASED DYNAMITER SEEKS ENGLAND GOING TO PIECES.

LION'S TAIL BADLY TWISTED.

Tynan says the New Zealander will soon be viewing ruins from London Bridge.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—A special to the Herald from Boulogne-Sur-Mer says:

P. J. Tynan is a free man. His release was unconditional. There is no question of expulsion from French territory or surveillance. He will go to Paris at once and will sail for New York from Cherbourg by the next steamer.

Your correspondent saw him as he came out of the prison door, looking healthy. His face was ruddy, and he was wearing a light suit of clothes. He was apparently none the worse for his thirty-three days' confinement. He said he had had a fairly good time, the officials having treated him with every consideration.

Tynan, with his wife and son, left with his wife at Audubon Park, telling her of his release; the other to William Lyman, Treasurer of the Irish National League of America.

In an interview he said:

"Whatever the nature of my mission to Europe was, it had nothing to do with the establishment in the near future of an independent Irish republic. The object of my visit was not to meet any old lady. That is a silly idea.

We Irishmen have nothing to do with things of that kind. We are honorable in our war-tax. As far as the Carlis were concerned, he would be in danger if he would be involved in my mission."

Exactly what the nature of my mission was, I do not know, but I know you this am not in the Anarchistic ideas of the general destruction of persons and property. You are the father of a family, and I ask you to let me go. No harm could ever come to any one of your children from any act of mine. I would not hurt a hair of my head."

"I believe in dynamite as a weapon, and I hope the Irish Nationalists are there to use it. But I am not a member of the party. I am a practical man."

WOULDN'T VOTE IF HE COULD.

THE ANARCHIST LADY AND HER YOKE FELLOW.

HE NEVER WAS FOR BRYAN.

His Name Is Steele, But the Anarchist
Lady Calls Herself Mrs.
Campbell.

"Mrs. Campbell," the Anarchist lady who threatens to leave her husband if he votes at the coming election, is still defiant. She says she will write a letter to Mrs. Werth, President of the Woman's Bryan Club, and tell her that she meant every word she said.

Her husband, J. W. Steele, says she will not find it necessary to carry out her threat, because he doesn't want to vote anyway.

When a Post-Dispatch reporter called at the Steele residence Thursday night the undressed man who was toting the baby while "Mrs. Campbell" was talking anarchy Thursday morning was seated in the parlor. He was still holding the baby. "Mrs. Campbell," the reporter entered, and pointing to the undressed man said: "That is the party you wish to see."

The party answered to the name of Steele. He said he was an anarchist. The Woman's Bryan Club is getting excited about nothing. You can't intimidate a man by preventing him from doing what he doesn't want to do. I do not believe in government and would not vote for any man for President. I am not a Bryan man, because he does not represent me. I have no desire to vote I might vote for Bryan. My views on these matters are the same as those of my wife except that she is a revolutionist and I am a philosophical anarchist. She knows I don't want to vote. The Bryanite husband she set up for purposes of argument was probably a straw man."

Mr. Steele pays the rent and holds the baby, but the woman who wrote the letter contains the name of Mrs. Steele Campbell and objects to being called Mrs. Steele. The couple are not trammelled by orthodoxy now.

Mrs. Steele says he registered in order to qualify himself to vote at the city election next spring. He condescends to recognize the right of the voter to have his "personal interests" at stake.

He is 35 years old and a carpenter. He is unemployed at present.

Mr. Steele is known among those who hold views similar to hers. She has written a number of articles over the signature of Steele.

She is the woman who in the campaign of 1896 issued an anonymous circular denouncing Lee Merriweather, then candidate for Governor. That circular was signed by one Bloom to a subordinate position. She was formerly the wife of Prof. S. A. Rendell, now deceased.

Before the Post-Dispatch reporter left the Steele-Campbell house Mrs. Campbell repeated her request that he send Mr. Steele to her.

She said she had a letter to Mrs. Werth nearly ready to mail, but would not give the reporter an idea of what she had written. After the reporter had gone she sent him a copy of her letter. In the interview with Mrs. Campbell in the Post-Dispatch, I am very sorry I ever got mixed up in the matter. The woman must be crazy. I wish to have nothing to do with her. Our club shall certainly not notice her." Mr. Werth was present. He remarked that Bryan's supporters did not care for the votes of men like Steele.

GOV. ALTGELD'S TOUR.

After speaking in East St. Louis the Governor is for New York.

Gov. John P. Altgeld and the nominees for office on the Democratic State ticket completed their tour of Southern Illinois at East St. Louis Thursday night.

Immediately after the meeting at McCasland's Opera House, the Governor started back to the Hotel Peacock in New York in time to make his speech at Cooper Union Saturday night.

Hayes W. Salmon Chairman of the Democratic State Committee of the State Committee, and Auditor James M. Seibert of St. Louis, urged Gov. Altgeld to remain in St. Louis for a few days. His appointment in St. Louis Saturday night.

The Governor was unable to do so. He had been bilked for New York by the Democratic National Committee, which regrettably in its conduct in dates, he was unable to comply with their request.

At the meeting in the Opera House in East St. Louis Gov. Altgeld urged the voters to cast their ballots as they believed to be right, denounced in strong terms the Union Generals, and the best touring the State, and excommunicated Mark Hanna and his double methods.

The meeting ended the tour of the section, and of the State. In the course of the day trip the Governor made twenty-four speeches and everywhere was met by enthusiastic audiences.

It was a campaign tour unprecedented in the history of Illinois politics. Such great crowds never before greeted State candidates in the State. The Governor made twenty-four speeches and everywhere was met by enthusiastic audiences.

Gov. Altgeld was well satisfied with the trip. He said before starting East that the trip would be a success, and that he would be elected by at least 60,000 majority and that this could not be overcome by Mark Hanna's bullet in the City of Chicago.

All the leading politicians expressed themselves in the same confident manner and declared that the State could not be bought by Hanna's gold.

TUCKERMAN—MAURY.

Rector of St. Stephen's Mission to Be Married at Christ Church Cathedral.

The marriage of Miss Katherine Maury to Rev. Gustave Tuckerman, rector of St. Stephen's Mission, will take place Saturday evening at 8 o'clock at Christ Church Cathedral. Bishop D. S. Tuttle will officiate.

The wedding recalls the malicious practical joke played on the young people a month ago. That was published in a leading paper announcing the death of "Mrs. Katherine Tuckerman" (nee Maury), wife of the rector of St. Stephen's Mission. All the friends naturally supposed that there had been a deathbed marriage.

The joke was an embarrassing one to confess, and was paid off in Miss Maury for several days.

The identity of the joker was not fully disclosed, but Miss Maury suspected a married sutor.

TO BRYAN'S BIRTHPLACE.

* 500 ST. LOUIS Will Make the Trip to Bryan's Birthplace.

The special train to convey the Jefferson Club to Salem, Ill., the old home of William Jennings Bryan, will leave Union Station at 5:30 o'clock Friday over the Burlington and Ohio Southwestern. The train stop at East St. Louis to take a detour.

The demonstration at Bryan's old home will be made by Gov. Stone, McRae and John J. Martin, who will be members of the St. Louis contingent.

GH BILLS OF LADING.

to Break the Stranglehold

Louis Commerce.

Committee of the St. Louis Association presented its recommendations at a joint meeting of the two associations. The demonstration will be submitted to the Association.

Its first move had been to call a general strike and right-out way for the Bots Line surrounding St. Louis without a fixed sum for the transportation of cars.

Because of the frequent complaints of freights being delayed the committee had discussed the matter with the railroad officials and a joint freight truck line card had been issued by the railroads, reads Louisville, Nashville, Vandalia, Burlington, St. Louis & San Francisco, Missouri Pacific, Wabash, Missouri, Kansas & Texas and the Illinois Central roads will join in the near future.

The report discusses the attempt to secure through bills of lading payment to St. Louis to other points. It says the roads are anxious to make concessions to get freight. The merchants are to be asked to sign a code of laws for the use of such independent line. The hope of relieving St. Louis of the burden of the burden that now rests upon it is to be obtained by the existing lines. Roads entering St. Louis should treat the charges of the terminals and bridges the same as do other roads of the free lines.

The report discusses the collection for goods by the terminal and bridges for railroads bound from St. Louis to other points. No bill of lading should read to East St. Louis or from East St. Louis and the bill of lading should read to the use of such independent line. The hope of relieving St. Louis of the burden of the burden that now rests upon it is to be obtained by the existing lines. Roads entering St. Louis should treat the charges of the terminals and bridges the same as do other roads of the free lines.

The solution of the partial or complete abandonment of the bridge arbitrary can only be accomplished through the method of through bills of lading and opening the commercial gates to St. Louis railroad competition.

HIS KIND OF FRIENDSHIP.

James Wark Tells How J. H. Guyette Has Helped Labor.

J. H. Guyette, Superintendent of the Brown Shoe Co., who has been posing as a friend of the workingmen and begging them to go to work, has aroused considerable feeling among the workingmen on account of his attitude toward labor in the past.

Wark, a foreman in the Hamilton-Brown Shoe Co., has this to say of Mr. Guyette:

"Tell the workingmen, eh? Humph! Let me tell you something that you have not heard."

In 1892 two young men came to me and secured employment as apprentices in the shoe factory. One was working under Guyette, the other under a master. Both were apprentices of the other firms.

"The two men were apprentices and Mr. Brown was forced to have me discharge them. Then he called on Mr. A. D. Brown, President of this company, and recalled to him a contract between all the shoe manufacturers in St. Louis to agree not to employ apprentices of the other firms."

Democrats of St. Louis County Had a Big Torchlight Turnout and Two Rallies.

The free silver clubs of Webster Groves, Clayton, Maplewood, Old Orchard, Tuxedo and Brookdale made a mighty demonstration in St. Louis County Wednesday night.

Mounted and supplied with torches, they rode 1,000 strong over the county roads and participated in the great gatherings, one at Old Manchester road and Marshall avenue, the other at Clayton.

Marshall Avenue, Maplewood, was the starting place, and thence the route led to Webster Groves over the Big Bend road and over the north and south roads to Clayton.

The crowds about the starting place gathered around a speaker's platform that had been erected and listened to an eloquent address by Gen. James M. Lewis.

The speaker's name was audience, Gen. Lewis, addressed them as follows:

Fellow Citizens—I am here to-night to speak to the people of Missouri where I live. My life, and whose prosperity and happiness have ever been near my heart, I have spent frank, open and direct dealing with the masses and the classes that threaten us. We are standing to-day in the shadow of a great political battle. From both sides, and the world over, the result of the event will be marked influence to the people of St. Louis.

I shall first take up our platform adopted at our last meeting, and then proceed to declare it as confession of faith. Let us examine it from two points of view:

First, Is it a genuine expression of fundamental Democratic principles in accord with the historical record of the party?

Second, Was it regularly adopted by a regular Democratic Convention duly authorized to speak for the party?

I have carefully read the platform and I wish every voter to understand fully that in making it we did not do so in the clear letter of instruction from the Democracy of this country to be honestly carried out after the election. Mr. Lincoln were to be called a Democrat, and an anarchist and an anarchist by the goldbugs.

Again much has been said about the platform attacking the Supreme Court.

The United States is a honorable body of men I entertain the highest respect, but they are not infallible. I do not suppose any man in the country at this time to call Mr. Lincoln a revolutionist. In 1860 this is what he said about this honorable court: "I do not forget the position assumed by the Supreme Court, nor do I deny that such decisions must be decided by the Supreme Court, but in any case, on the object of the suit, while they are also entitled to a very high respect and consideration in all parallel cases, by all other departments of the government. At the same time the candid citizens must confess that if the policy of the Government upon vital questions affecting the whole people, be irreversibly fixed by the decisions of the Supreme Court the instant they are made in one or two instances, the people will have ceased to be their own rulers, having to that extent practically resigned their government into the hands of the Supreme Court."

This platform expresses Democratic doctrine, the rights of the States, resistance to Federal encroachment, the maintenance of equal taxation, and the defense of the body of the people against all

A FARMER SENDS FIFTY DOLLARS.

MORE CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE BRYAN CAMPAIGN FUND.

THE LIST IS STILL OPEN. FRACTURED A ZWICK'S SKULL, IT WAS A GREAT TREAT.

M. C. Wetmore Got N. M. Bell's 1795
Coin on His Bed of Ten Dollars.

The Bryan Popular Campaign Fund has reached nearly $4,400.

Contributions are still coming in and by Saturday night it is expected that at least $100 will have been subscribed.

J. W. Segar, a well-to-do farmer of Mitchell, Ill., contributed $50 to the fund. He is followed by Charles Loxow of this city and John S. Smith, who gave $10.

Mr. Segar attributes the contribution to the existing single gold standard and cheerfully gives $50 to advance the cause of freedom.

He is convinced that a victory for Mr. Bryan would remedy the existing conditions and wants to do his share in promoting it.

John J. McLean of Albany, Tex., sends $10 for the fund, which is being led by silver advocates of that little city.

Maj. M. C. Wetmore was the highest bidder for the silver dollar of 1795, which was sold for $100 in favor of the Bryan campaign fund.

It brought $10, which will go to the fund, Maj. J. A. Tenney, who contributed $2, thought it was the result of an error credited with $10.

At noon Friday these contributions had totalled $1,000 and the amount of all the more than $1,000 in his mind, summing up count of these facts.

Prosecuting Attorney Johnson, in his speech for the defense, said he felt deeply grieved Friday morning when he issued a warrant against him for assault to kill.

The warrant was served at the hospital.

Ambrose Miller, the Broadway kidnapper who assaulted James Zwicker and William Cox, teamsters, with an iron bar Thursday evening, is now in a state of stupor, according to Dr. Alfred J. Mitchell, who is a member of the Democratic Club, following him to the meeting, a number of blacks to one white.

"Say, or you wasn't done yet missy," said Miller. "My dat sin is me is old, jolly older."

That's the way Sympsy had it up when he showed up around the Post-Dispatch office Friday noon. Sympsy and the other boys that sell the Post-Dispatch are still talking about their trip to Hayville's Theater Thursday night. They saw "Down in Dixie," and they are ready in their own words to bring it to the Post-Dispatch if the show ever starts again.

When Miller learned that his blow fractured Zwicker's skull and that he might die his agony of mind was pitiable. He broke down completely in his car at the Soulard Street Police Station and insisted upon telling and retelling his account of the trouble whenever any one listened to him.

His talk became stumbling and incoherent and it was evident that the man's mind was gone.

He reiterated a hundred times the statement that Zwicker had provoked the trouble by hitting him with an iron bar.

Miller was laid up midnight Thursday night when Miller was in a state of almost complete collapse, he was removed to the City Hospital, where he talked about the case.

Miller is reported to be the most powerful kidnapper, physically, in the country and it is believed that the man's mind is gone.

IT SMELLS TO HIGH HEAVEN.
REPUBLICANS RATIFY FILLEY'S SLATE FOR CITY OFFICERS.

RANK JUDICIAL NOMINATIONS.

The only element of the Republican party of this city that is pleased with the ticket nominated at the Merchants' League Club Thursday is the membership of that organization. The rank and file of the party not on the mainship role of Uncle Filley's club are disgusted.

They say openly that the ticket is the weakest ever launched by any political body in this city.

As one of the delegates put it Thursday evening: "It was no convention at all. It was merely an adjourned meeting of the Merchants' League to nominate a ticket selected at 2700 Chestnut street." Here is the ticket in full:

Henry Troll
Circuit Judges.

Long term.....William Zachrich

Long term.....John A. Talty

Short term.....Sam P. Fisher

Short term.....D. Fisher

Gustav A. Finkelnburg

Circuit Attorney.....William W. M.

Public Administrator.....Richard C. Richardson

Circuit Attorney.....Theodore C. Eggers

Assistant Circuit Attorney.....S. H. Gordon

Circuit Attorney.....Henry B.

Thursday's edition of the Post-Democrat told how completely Filley had the convention in hand. Filley was first. That's what he wanted. He was the only one who seemed to make way for the Chartrand delegation. When it was seen that the Chartrand delegation had not the Pohlman delegates headed by Dr. James, was allowed to hold its seat.

Filley had to the Pohlman or have a seat. So he sent his men on his hands. It was painful to throw his old and faithful henchmen, but to save himself Filley did it. It was not to his like. Mr. Zachrich, nominated for Circuit Judge, but Ziegelmehn insisted and he had to get a six-year term while able, clean just like Judge Finkelnburg, but Hugo Muench was given the two-year term.

The selection of judicial candidates was the selection of the better elements of the convention.

The man at the Mosque, who failed to register, our friend for so long, was picked out of the crowd for the bar. They are obstructionists, that bar.

Five attorneys recommended by the Louis bar, two were nominated, but they were given two-year terms. One of them, Mr. Muench, declined the nomination on the spot, and Mr. Charles Nagel wanted to decline for Judge Finkelnburg, but Chairman Ziegelmehn would not let him do so.

Judge Finkelnburg was not in the city, and the officers of the convention would not have his nomination deferred until he came forward himself, said an writer.

Judge D. D. Fisher was put on to take Mr. Zachrich's place, and the experienced Judge Peabody will be selected by the Committee, which has the power to fill vacancies, when Judge Finkelnburg's declination is known.

The long term nominees are all about the same age. They are between 35 and 37 years old.

Mr. Spencer entered politics two years ago when he was elected to the Legislature. He represented Filley up to the time of the convention, and since the Legislature adjourned he has been Filley's legal adviser and has represented him in his battles with the Election Committee, and he will be the one who carried him into court. In the proceedings before the National Committee Mr. Spencer presented "De Ole Man" in the key.

John A. Lady is the president of the Merchants' League Club and also worships at the Mosque. He is a good lawyer, but couldn't muster enough strength to get the endorsement of the bar.

Zachrich reluctantly accepted an insult to the community. His name is on the Circuit Attorney's office has become a by-word, and he has used his office to serve as a platform for his political aims, and he has been forced to leave the bar.

One of the most popular men used in Zachrich's behalf was his devotion to the party and its leaders and his fearlessness in standing up to them. Dr. Henry Lillard, the Lawyer of the Third Ward, who seconded the nomination, made this sort of a reference to Cas. Ziegelmehn's protege, Zachrich, recently, but all but seven of the total in the convention.

Theodore C. Eggers, the nominee for Circuit Attorney, also a regular which will come into play, may stand in for Mr. Eggers. He has been Clerk in the City Attorney's office and made a business of carrying out the orders of the bar. City Attorney Clover was absent. He worked the nolles proqual racket to such an extent that Judge Peabody was forced to suppress him, and the Merchants' League clubman, and stands high in the ranks of that organization.

COULDN'T AFFORD IT.

Mr. Finkelnberg Refuses the Republican Nomination for Judge.

Attorney Gustavus A. Finkelnberg, who received the Republican nomination for Circuit Judge for the short term, sent a letter of declination to Chairman Ziegelmehn Friday.

He wrote that he could not accept the nomination, giving as his reason that his present position and his family would not permit him to serve if elected.

To a Post-Democrat reporter Mr. Finkelnberg said: "I did not decline the nomination for any political reason. I simply feel that I cannot sacrifice my practice to accept a judicial office. I am a member of the bar, and I regret that I received the nomination. Mr. Charles Nagel was present at the convention and I understand that he told the delegation that he would not serve as a candidate for the short term. His statement seems to be overlooked."

At the time of a resolution adopted by the convention the City Central Committee will have the power to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Finkelnberg's declination.

MISS BOWEN'S PRECEPTS.

Supt. Soldan Has Instructed Her to Scratch Indefinite Bob.

Supt. Louis F. Soldan was indignant when he learned that Miss Bowen of Webster School had been reading the goldbug lectures of an indefatigable speaker to her pupils and then taken refuge behind the instructions of the course of study to defend her conduct.

Mr. Soldan said this was, at the best, an attempt to go so far to twist the rule as to make it fit Miss Bowen's peculiar conduct.

The rule in question treats of geography and says: "In higher classes the seventh and eighth, the current events of the day should be a constant feature of the geography lesson. The teacher should make fresh and attractive the study of history and Home contains much information in this direction. The daily papers are a storehouse of facts."

Mr. Soldan said that this rule referred strictly to geography, and the reference to the daily paper was intended to direct the teachers toward the study of current events from a geographical standpoint. For example, Cuba was in the lesson a few months ago, and the Cuban war would not be mentioned. The rule was intended to direct the teachers to read papers doing, convey to the pupils, and while so doing, convey to the right information that there was no other side to the question.

Mr. Soldan wrote a letter to Miss Bowen, which is calculated to deter her from making the same mistake again, and will promptly prompt her to set aside her field of political reading.
